Soledicom aims to boost sales by expanding its distribution channels to include pharmacies, hair salons, shops and supermarkets as well as enhancing its online presence through a website, social medias, online markets and other platforms.

While there are similar products on the market, they are of lower quality, as evidenced by the number of customers switching to Soledicom's offerings.

In the Kigali region alone, the total demand is estimated at 200 billions RFWs. If supported, Soledicom is confident it can capture 5% of this market within the next three years.
